DRAGONS or DINOSAURS? PART 2

By: Darek Isaacs
I would like to personally thank you for watching the Origins program. Origins was a special program, near to the heart of my late husband, Russell Bixler.

I trust that the information in this presentation will be helpful in your study of creation science. Thank you for your prayerful and financial support of Origins... you’re making the television production of this program possible.

The Book of Job

Behold, all that he hath is thine; only upon himself put thine hand. So Satan went forth in the presence of the Lord.

13 And there was aBehemoth, a man in the land of Uz; and his name was Job; and there was none like unto Job in all the land of the east, for he was perfect and upright, a man that feared God, and spurned evil.

14 And there came one born unto him, and he had three sons and three daughters.

15 And there came one born unto him, and he had three sons and three daughters.

But what’s a Behemoth?

“Seeking visions might seem light-years away from scientific inquiry. Yet the most creative paleontologists can be described as visionaries, and many respected scientists have described important theoretical breakthroughs that came to them as revelations while they slept or daydreamed.”

- Adrienne Mayor, Fossil Legends of the First Americans, Princeton Press, 2005, p. 329
“This hyperaware dream state is called ‘lucid dreaming’ or ‘power dreaming’ by neuropsychologists. Paleontologists who trust their dreams about the meaning of fossils are perhaps not so unlike Native American discoverers of fossils during vision quests.

- Adrienne Mayor, Fossil Legends of the First Americans, Princeton Press, 2005, p. 329
Certainly paleontology - solving the mystery of stone creatures that will never be seen walking the earth - inspires dreams and theoretical narratives."

Now war arose in heaven, Michael and his angels fighting against the dragon. And the dragon and his angels fought back, but he was defeated and there was no longer any place for them in heaven.
Then he said to Thomas, “Put your finger here, and see my hands; and put out your hand, and place it in my side. Do not disbelieve, but believe.” Thomas answered him, “My Lord and my God!”
